Adjustable Rate Mortgage (ARM)

A loan where the interest rate is based on an economic index and adjusted periodically by adding a fixed margin to the index; includes caps on initial, periodic, and lifetime adjustments.

Margin

The fixed percentage added to the index to determine the interest rate on an adjustable rate mortgage; remains constant throughout the loan term.

Initial Cap

The maximum amount the interest rate can increase at the first adjustment period on an adjustable rate mortgage.

Periodic Cap

The maximum amount the interest rate can increase at each subsequent adjustment period on an adjustable rate mortgage.

Lifetime Cap

The maximum amount the interest rate can increase over the life of an adjustable rate mortgage.

Amortization

The process of paying off a loan through regular payments of principal and interest, gradually reducing the balance until fully paid.

Non-Amortized Loan

A loan where payments cover only interest, with the principal due in a lump sum at the end of the term.

Balloon Payment

A large lump sum payment typically due at the end of a loan term.

Fixed-Rate Loan

A loan with a constant interest rate and equal principal and interest payments throughout the life of the loan.

Graduated Mortgage

A fixed-rate mortgage with payments that start low and increase gradually based on a set schedule, often causing initial negative amortization.

Growing Equity Mortgage

A fixed-rate mortgage where payments increase over time, with extra amounts applied to principal, reducing the loan term and interest costs.

Pledged Account Mortgage

A graduated payment mortgage where the borrower deposits funds into a savings account to supplement early mortgage payments.

Straight-Line Mortgage (Constant Amortization)

A mortgage where the principal portion of each payment remains constant, causing total payments to decrease over time.

Straight Mortgage/Term Mortgage (Interest Only)

A mortgage where payments cover only interest, with the full principal due at the end of the term.

Home Equity Loan

A loan using the borrower's home equity as collateral; may be a first or second mortgage, typically with higher rates and shorter terms.

Reverse Mortgage

A loan for homeowners (often seniors) that converts home equity into payments to the owner; repaid when the owner leaves or sells the home.

Bridge Loan

A short-term loan providing funds for a down payment on a new home before selling the current home; often interest-only for a few months.

Purchase Money Mortgage

Seller financing where the seller provides a loan toward the purchase price; can be a first or junior mortgage.

Wrap-Around Mortgage

Seller financing where the seller's existing mortgage remains in place while the buyer makes payments to the seller, who covers the original loan.

Land Contract

A contract where the seller finances the purchase and retains title until the buyer completes payments; often includes a balloon payment.

Construction Mortgage

A short-term loan for construction, disbursed in stages as work progresses; converts to permanent financing upon completion.

Blanket Mortgage

A mortgage covering multiple properties, often used by developers; includes a release clause for individual parcels upon sale.

Shared Equity Mortgage

A commercial loan where the lender receives interest plus a share of the property's income or profits.

Package Mortgage

A mortgage that includes both real property and personal property as collateral, often used in commercial or furnished property sales.
