Offer Knowledge Test

Based on this lesson's resource, which three of the following statements are true regarding offers?

If the buyer's and seller's brokers agree on a price over the phone, the offer counts as accepted, and the transaction timeline begins.

A counter-offer that includes the price nullifies any proposed previous offer.

When the offer is being sent by mail, the seller acceptance of an offer is time stamped to record when the signed offer is mailed.

A seller's broker received an offer via email that both the buyer and seller signed. This offer is officially "accepted."

An offeror may retract an offer if the offeree hasn't received it.

Harvey's house is on the market for $325,000, and the market in his area is hot. After being on the market for three days, his broker Bobby has brought four offers to him. They sat down together and decided to reject Offer A because the buyers only offered $275,000 and had a long punch list. He used the 340-T form to this offer. Offer B was a much better match, but it was still lacking some necessary terms. He'll use the 340-T form (memo to buyer) to make a couple of small suggestions that would make this offer the golden ticket. Technically, this isn't a but is a rejection with reservations. He's hopeful the buyer will agree to re-submit the offer. Bobby sent the memo to the buyer. Some were still coming in while the buyer reviewed the suggestions. Harvey will determine which is the best offer.

How Much Is the Property Worth?

"So, can you help me determine how much my property is worth?" Sam asked.

How should Masie respond?

"Yes, but I'd have to take a look at market conditions and some sales data for that type of property before I could give you an approximate value."

"I can't tell you what the property is worth. Only an appraiser can do that."

Your Experience

A successful real estate agent knows what to do... and what NOT to do... to guide the client through a transaction.

You're here to learn how to be that successful real estate agent. And we're here to help your get there.

We'll start with a brief poll about your experience with real estate transactions. There's no right or wrong answer. We'll show you how other students responded to the questions once you've answered. We're assuming that you live or have lived in some place that you or someone you live with rents or owns.

Have you used the services of a licensed real estate professional before?

Points of Failure

After a showing of the Mackies' property, their broker Kelly heard from buyer's broker Henry that the Nelson family was interested in submitting an offer for $5,000 below the listing price. Henry drafted an offer for the agreed-upon price, requiring an inspection, closing date in two months, and sent it to Kelly via email with a five-day deadline. Henry returned the contract via FedEx on the seventh day because he didn't receive the email since he was out of town. What are three reasons why this offer might be deemed invalid?
