

Getting Started in Your Course

Basic Features

- Total flexibility: Your course is 100% online and completely self-paced-no need to be online at any particular time
- Pure accessibility: Work through your course using any computer, tablet, or even your smart phone
- Interactive content: Stay engaged through multiple activities and real-life scenarios, and retain information more effectively

Technical and Instructor Support

Although your course is designed to be taken on your own time and at your own pace, know that you are NOT alone. Our support team is available to offer technical support and address any other questions or concerns that you may have. Contact us by phone or chat. From within your course, use the Support link for contact details. For content-related questions, the support team may put you in touch with an instructor, the curriculum team, or other subject matter experts. Inquiries or questions received outside of standard hours of operation will be responded to within 24 hours.

Course Home and Table of Contents

When you log in, you'll start at the course home page. You can access it at any time by selecting "Course Home" from any page in the course. The table of contents on the course home page displays completed and upcoming sections. The course remembers your progress and will display the unit titles of the current section. You will be able to see the unit titles of any upcoming sections that you select. That content will be "locked" until you progress to that point in the course.

Course Progress

As you move through the course, you can easily track your progress. You can see your progress both as a percentage of content completed and the amount of time you've spent in the course. The course keeps track of your time while you are working online in the course. Where required by state rules, the course cannot be considered complete until the minimum required time has been met. The final exam will not be unlocked until the minimum required time requirement has been met. The Time in Course tracker indicates if the minimum time is "required" or "suggested."

Take Me Where I Left Off

Your progress is automatically saved as you work through the course content, right up to the last slide you viewed or activity you completed. From the Course Home, you can quickly get back to where you left off by selecting the "Take me where I left off" button. Alternatively, you can also select the current unit from your table of contents.

Basic Navigation

As you advance through lessons, your progress within the lesson is shown by a progress bar and slide count. Lessons are typically five to 15 minutes in length. You'll use the "Next" button to advance through slides in each lesson. When you complete a lesson, you'll use the "Continue" button to advance to the next lesson.

Activities

Each lesson in the course consists of slides which contain information and activities to complete. You'll apply what you know to attempt to solve the problem posed and receive feedback on your response whether it's correct or not. There's no penalty for incorrect responses, although you will be required to try again until you complete the activity successfully. Once you've mastered the new information, you'll progress to another activity.

Resources

We put the information you need in resources which are available in lessons as you need it. Simply select the resource to open it. Once it's open, you can review the information, bookmark it to return to later, and even download or print the resource if you want to work offline. From the course home page, you can select "View All Resources," where all of the resources in the course appear in a list. You'll see the resources you've bookmarked, and you can open them again from this view. You'll be able to see resources in upcoming sections, but you won't be able to open them until you are working in that section.

Taking Exams

After entering an exam, you'll be presented with the question and possible answers. All exam questions are multiple choice with only one correct answer. The total number of questions in your exam is displayed in the upper right. Use the "Next" button to advance and "Previous" if you want to go back and review questions that have already been answered. You can also star a question for review. After submitting your exam, you will be immediately presented with your results. Results will include your overall score, individual question results, and feedback for any questions missed.

Glossary

Your course includes access to a glossary that contains an extensive list of terms and words along with definitions and examples. You can scroll through the full list or use the built in search tool.

Tools

The Tools area of your course contains several "Career Builder" resources designed to help you move into your new career in real estate. A few examples include Top 10 Mistakes, Building your Sphere, and Where to Spend your Marketing Dollars.
