

Tips and Tricks for Taking Your Course and Licensing Exams

- When taking your course and licensing exams, be sure to read each question carefully so you know exactly what it's asking. Then read all the answer options. Now read the question again, and focus on, "What are they really asking me?" Then find the best answer to that question within your answer options. (Remember, just because a statement in an answer option is true, this does not necessarily make it the correct answer to the question.)
- Sometimes, one word that you miss reading can make an incorrect answer seem like the correct one, or can make you misinterpret the exact question being asked.
- Be sure to read through all answers before selecting one.
- With some questions (in both your course and licensing exams), there may be more than one answer that seems to fit. In these cases, you'll need to select the BEST AND MOST COMPLETE answer.
- Each time you complete a course practice exam, review it carefully, paying special attention to the questions you missed. Be sure that you understand why the correct answer is indeed correct and what makes the other options incorrect.
- Identify whether there's a pattern to the questions you missed. For example, did you struggle with questions on agency? If so, set aside some time to review the related course content, including any applicable flashcards and study sheets.
- We recommend that you retake your course practice exams as many times as you'd like. For the best chance of success on your course final and on your licensing exam, we strongly encourage you to take advantage of your unlimited attempts on the course practice exams to achieve not just a passing score, but a great score! Once you're consistently scoring at and above 90%, that's a good indication you're ready to take the course final and your state licensing exam. It may take you a few attempts to achieve this, so be patient with yourself. There's a lot of material to remember!
- If you have questions or are confused about anything you see in any of your course exams, please let us know. Share the exact wording of the question with us so we can find it in your course and provide you with an accurate response.
